April, No Fooling!

April of the TGIC club has invited SOs of club members to come to the club. I'd like to second that invitation on behalf of the club. However, because of the fact that I left it in the wrong folder and accidentally erased the original, the actual text will have to wait. Next month; soddy.

Go To Helena

Helena [REDACTED] from Connections Psychotherapy would like to start a small group therapy session for current and former spouses of transgendered and transsexual people. If you are interested or know of someone who might be, please have them call Helena at [REDACTED].

April Foolery

Well, that's enough serious stuff. The rest of this document is pretty silly, outright nasty or plain out stupid. Complaints will be ignored as usual. You are warned that if you read a joke and take offense at it, please reenter the time warp and the next time, do not read it!

Microsoft

There is no truth to the rumor that Microsoft is heaven, nor Bill Gates is God. Neither would stoop so low. It is also not true that Microsoft purchased the United States of America and plans to run it as a wholly owned subsidiary.

Eschew Obfuscation.

[Bald Eagle] A man is caught by a forest ranger, sitting at a makeshift campfire and, to the ranger's horror, eating a bald eagle. The man was jailed for the crime. On the day of his trial, the conversation goes something like this: JUDGE: "Do you know that eating a bald eagle is a federal offense?" MAN: "Yes I do. But if you let me argue my case, I'll explain what happened." JUDGE: "Proceed." MAN: "I got lost in the woods. I hadn't had anything to eat for two weeks. I was so hungry. Next thing I see is a Bald Eagle swooping down at the lake for some fish. I knew that if I followed the Eagle I could maybe steal the fish. I caught up with the eagle who lighted upon a tree stump to eat the fish. I threw a stone toward the eagle hoping he would drop the fish and fly away. Unfortunately, in my weakened condition, my aim was off, and the rock hit the eagle squarely on his poor little head, and killed it. I thought long and hard about what had happened, but figured that since I'd killed it, I might as well eat it, since it would be more disgraceful to let it rot on the ground. And that was when the good ranger found me."

JUDGE: "The court will recess while we consider your testimony." [Fifteen minutes later...] JUDGE: "Due to the extreme circumstance you were under and because you didn't intend to kill the eagle, the court will dismiss the charges." The judge then leans over the bench and whispers, "If you don't mind my asking, what does a bald eagle taste like?" MAN: "Well your honor, it is hard to explain. The best I can describe is it's somewhere between a California Condor and a Spotted Owl."

Why does a mermaid wear seashells? Because she is too big for B-shells and too small for D-shells.

The Ballad of the Bobbitt Hillbillies

Come and listen to my story bout a man named John,

A poor ex-marine with a little fraction gone.
It seems one night after gettin' with the wife,
She loped off his don with the swipe of a knife.
Penis, that is. Clean cut. Missed his nuts.

Well the next thing you know there's a Ginsu
by his side,

And Lorena's in the car takin' Willie for a ride.
She soon got tired of her purple-headed friend,
And she tossed him out the window as she rounded a bend.

Curve, that is. Tossed the nub. In the shrub.

She went to the law and confessed to the attack.
And they called out the dogs just to get his weenie back

They sniffed and they barked and they pointed
"Over there"

To John Wayne's henry that was waving in the air

Found that is. By a fence. Evidence.

Now Peter and John couldn't stay apart lon
So a dick doc said, "Hey I can fix your dong!"
"A needle and thread is all we're gonna need,"
And the whole world waited till they heard that Johnny peed.

Wizzed that is. Even seam. Straight stream.

Well healed and he hardened and he took his case to court.

With a half-assed lawyer, cause his assets came up short.

They cleared her of assault and acquitted him of rape,

And his pecker was the only one they didn't show
on tape.

Video that is. Unexposed. Case closed.

Ya'll sleep on your stomachs now, ya hear?

Chicken Gun

Scientists at NASA have developed a gun built specifically to launch dead chickens at the windshields of airliners, military jets and the space shuttle, all traveling at maximum velocity. The idea is to simulate the frequent incidents of collisions with airborne fowl to test the strength of the windshields.

British engineers heard about the gun and were eager to test it on the windshields of their new high speed trains. Arrangements were made. But when the gun was fired, the engineers stood shocked as the chicken hurtled out of the barrel, crashed into the shatterproof shield, smashed it to smithereens, crashed through the control console, snapped the engineer's backrest in two and embedded itself in the back wall of the cabin. Hod begged the U.S. scientists for suggestions.

NASA's response was just one sentence, "Thaw the chicken."

Q. How many Canadians does it take to screw in a light bulb?

A.(a) Only one, but he has to see an American do it first. (b) Twelve. Four to form a Parliamentary study committee to decide how to solve the problem, one Francophone to complain that I didn't translate this joke into French, one Native Canadian to protest that the interests of Native Canadians have been overlooked, one woman from the National Action Committee On the Status Of Women to say that women have been underrepresented in the process, one to go over the border to the Niagara Falls Factory Outlet Mall and buy a new bulb and not pay duty on it on the way back, one to actually screw it in, one to collect taxes on the whole procedure so the government can afford it, one to buy a case of Molson for everybody to drink, and one to drop the puck.

Clinton Sex Survey

With the Clinton sex scandal topping the news, the Washington Post conducted a survey, asking one thousand women if they would sleep with the president. An astonishing 73% replied, "Never again."

Engineers

Top 11 engineers' terminologies and what they really mean: A NUMBER OF DIFFERENT APPROACHES ARE BEING TRIED--We still don't know what we're doing. AN EXTENSIVE REPORT IS BEING PREPARED TO OUTLINE A FRESH APPROACH TO THE PROBLEM--We just hired three kids fresh out of college. CLOSE PROJECT COORDINATION--We know who to blame. MAJOR TECHNOLOGICAL BREAKTHROUGH -- It looks very hi-tech, but still doesn't work. CUSTOMER SATISFACTION IS DELIVERED, ASSURED --We are so far behind schedule the customer will be happy to get it delivered. PRELIMINARY OPERATIONAL TESTS WERE INCONCLUSIVE -- The darn thing blew up when we threw the switch. TEST RESULTS WERE EXTREMELY GRATIFYING -- We were so surprised the stupid thing works. THE ENTIRE CONCEPT WILL HAVE TO BE ABANDONED -- The only person who understood the thing quit. IT IS IN THE PROCESS -- It is so wrapped up in red tape that the situation is about hopeless. WE WILL LOOK INTO IT -- Forget it! We have enough problems for now. PLEASE NOTE AND INITIAL -- Let's spread the responsibility for the goof-up.

Kids in the back seat cause accidents;
accidents in the back seat cause kids.

It's hard to make a comeback when you haven't been anywhere.

Lead me not into temptation (I can find the way myself).

When you're finally holding all the cards, why does everyone else decide to play chess?

Beer

Yesterday scientists revealed that beer contains traces of female hormones. To prove their theory, the scientists fed 100 men 12 bottles of beer and observed that 100% of them gained weight, talked excessively without making sense, became emotional, and couldn't drive. No further testing is planned.

Improved English

The European Commission have just announced an agreement whereby English will be the official language of the EU rather than German, which was the other possibility. As part of the negotiations Her Majesty's Government conceded that English spelling had some room for improvement and has accepted a 5 year phase-in plan that would be known as 'Euro-English.'

In the first year 's' replace the soft 'c'. Certainly, this will make the civil servants jump with joy. The hard 'c' will be dropped in favour of the 'k'. This should clear up confusion and keyboards can have one less letter. There will be growing public enthusiasm in the second year when the troublesome 'ph' will be replaced with the 'f'. This will make words like 'fotograf' 20% shorter.

In the 3rd year, public acceptance of the new spelling can be expected to reach the stage where more complicated changes are possible. Governments will encourage the removal of double letters which have always been a deterrent to accurate spelling. Also all will agree that the horrible mess of the silent 'e' in the language is disgraceful and it should go away.

By the 4th year people will be receptive to steps such as replacing 'th' with 'z' and 'w' with 'v'. During the fifth year the unnecessary 'o' can be dropped from words containing 'ou' and similar changes and of course be applied to other combinations of letters. After six years we will have a really sensible written style. There will be no more trouble or difficulties and everyone will find it easy to understand each other.

ARE YOU A GUY???

- 1) Alien beings from a highly advanced society visit the Earth, and you are the first human they encounter. As a token of intergalactic friendship, they present you with a small but incredibly sophisticated device that is capable of curing all disease, providing an infinite supply of clean energy, wiping out hunger and poverty, and permanently eliminating oppression and violence all over the entire Earth. You decide to:
 - a. Present it to the president of the United States
 - b. Present it to the secretary general of the United Nations
 - c. Take it apart
- 2) As you grow older, what lost quality of your youthful life do you miss the most?
 - a. Innocence
 - b. Idealism
 - c. Cherry bombs
- 3) When is it okay to kiss another male?
 - a. When you wish to display simple and pure affection without regard for narrow-minded social conventions
 - b. When he is the pope (Not on the lips)
 - c. When he is your brother and you are Al Pacino and this is the only really sportsmanlike way to let him know that, for business reasons, you have to have him killed
- 4) What about hugging another male?
 - a. If he's your father and at least one of you has a fatal disease
 - b. If you're performing the Heimlich maneuver (And even in this case, you should repeatedly shout: "I am just dislodging food trapped in this male's trachea! I am not in any way aroused!")
 - c. If you're a professional baseball player and a teammate hits a home run to win the World Series, you may hug him provided that
 - (1) he is legally within the basepath,

(2) both of you are wearing protective cups, and (3) you also pound him fraternally with your fist hard enough to cause fractures

5) Complete this sentence: A funeral is a good time to.....

a. remember the deceased and console his loved ones

b. reflect upon the fleeting transience of earthly life

c. tell the joke about the guy who has Alzheimer's disease and cancer

6) In your opinion, the ideal pet is

a. A cat

b. A dog

c. A dog that eats cats

7) You have been seeing a woman for several years. She's attractive and intelligent, and you always enjoy being with her. One leisurely Sunday afternoon the two of you are taking it easy - you're watching a football game; she's reading the papers - when she suddenly, out of the clear blue sky, tells you that she thinks she really loves you, but she can no longer bear the uncertainty of not knowing where your relationship is going. She says she's not asking whether you want to get married; only whether you believe that you have some kind of future together. What do you say?

a. That you sincerely believe the two of you do have a future, but you don't want to rush it

b. That although you also have strong feelings for her, you cannot honestly say that you'll be ready anytime soon to make a lasting commitment, and you don't want to hurt her by holding out false hope

c. That you cannot believe the Jets called a draw play on third and seventeen

8) Okay, so you have decided that you truly love a woman and you want to spend the rest of your life with her - sharing the joys and the sorrows, the triumphs and the tragedies, and all the adventures and opportunities that the world has to offer, come what may. How do you tell her?

a. You take her to a nice restaurant and tell her after dinner

b. You take her for a walk on a moonlit beach, and you say her name, and when she turns to you, with the sea breeze blowing her hair and the stars in her eyes, you tell her

c. Tell her what?

9) One weekday morning your wife wakes up feeling ill and asks you to get your three children ready for school. Your first question to her is:

a. "Do they need to eat anything?"

b. "They're in school already?"

c. "There are three of them?"

10) When is it okay to throw away a set of veteran underwear?

a. When it has turned the color of a dead whale and developed new holes so large that you're not sure which ones were originally intended for your legs

b. When it is down to eight loosely connected underwear molecules and have to be handled with tweezers

c. It is never okay to throw away veteran underwear. A real guy checks the garbage regularly in case somebody - and we are not naming names, but this would be his wife - is quietly trying to discard his underwear, which she is frankly jealous of, because the guy seems to have a more intimate relationship with it than with her

11) What, in your opinion, is the most reasonable explanation for the fact that Moses led the Israelites all over the place for forty years before they finally got to the Promised Land

a. He was being tested

b. He wanted them to really appreciate the Promised Land when they finally got there

c. He refused to ask directions

12) What is the human race's single greatest achievement?

- a. Democracy
- b. Religion
- c. Remote Control

How to score: Give yourself one point for every time you picked answer "c." A real guy would score at least 10 on this test. In fact, a real guy would score at least 15, because he would get the special five-point bonus for knowing the joke about the guy who has Alzheimer's disease AND cancer.

TRUE STORY AND A GOOD LAUGH...

Cross my heart this happened to this who guy lives in Westchester, NY, and goes to school at Ithaca College. For two years, he has wanted to ask a certain girl (who is also from Westchester and also goes to Ithaca) out on a date, but has never had the courage. Finally, one day over the summer, he sees her at home and musters up the courage to ask her out. She accepts, and they make dinner plans for Saturday night.

Friday night, this guy goes out with all of his buddies, and drinks like Prohibition is coming back. Saturday, he is in such bad shape that he can't make it through twenty minutes without either throwing up or using the bathroom. After several hours of this, he is able to stop throwing up, but he is still running to the toilet every 20 minutes. He doesn't want to cancel the date, because he's afraid he won't ever talk to her again. So they meet in Westchester, and take the train to New York City (about a 30 minute ride). They get to the restaurant, and he excuses himself during the appetizers to use the bathroom. They enjoy the rest of the appetizers without interruption, but he has to go back again during the entrees.

They decide to get dessert. During dessert, our hero feels another rumbling, but doesn't want to look like a complete bathroom freak, so he holds it. After a few minutes, the rumbling subsides, but he still has a bit of gas stored up. He decides to let this little bit of gas fly right there at the table (discreetly, of course). Unfortunately, this little bit of gas came with another little surprise. "Oh crap," he thinks (and feels). Instead of running to the bathroom right away, our hero immediately leans on the arms of his chair to keep from sitting on this surprise. He maintains this yoga position for the rest of dessert, trying to figure out what to do before his tan pants (a) start to smell, or (b) start to show stains on the outside. He quickly pays for dinner and they leave the restaurant.

Oh, by the way, he is walking like a cowboy. On the way to the train station, they pass the Gap. "Do you mind if I run in and buy a sweater that I was looking at last week?" he asks. "No problem, I'd like to look around too," she replies. They go into the Gap. Fortunately, at the Gap, men's fashions are on the right, women's fashions are on the left. They split up. Our hero grabs the first sweater within reach, and hurries back to the khakis. After selecting a pair that most closely resemble his current outfit, he brings both items to the register. His eyes are on his date (still on the other side of the store) to make sure that she doesn't see him buying the pants. He doesn't even want the sweater, so he says through clenched teeth (just in case his date can read lips from 40 feet away) "Just the pants." What?" asks the Gap girl. "Just the pants!" (Eyes still trained on his date.) Gap girl: "Oh,OK." He pays for the pants and walks over to his date, then they leave the store.

They board the train just before it leaves the station and find two seats in the middle of the car. Without sitting down, our hero excuses himself and walks to the bathroom in the back of the car. He gets to the bathroom as the train departs, and quickly rips off his pants and boxer shorts. He rolls them into a ball and throws them out the window. After cleaning himself off, he opens the Gap bag and pulls out... just the sweater.

Fourth grade kid proverbs; they did the endings:

The grass is always greener when you remember to water it.

A bird in the hand is a real mess.

It's better to light one candle than to waste electricity.
