Dear Ariadne,

Please excuse the long delay in answering your letter, but life for my family has been unusually hectic. In the midst of building a new home and trying to sell our present house my father-in-law died and my mother went into the hospital. I know that everyone goes through these times, but I still was not prepared.

I really will not be able to take on any more work presently, although your ideas for a workshop are excellent. I was recently appointed to the National Committee on Moral Values and Human Sexuality and that is going to involve a great deal of my "spare" time. I will keep your ideas in mind, I promise.

I did see the video tape of the Morning Exchange and thought that you did an excellent job. All of my clients and friends that watched the show were very impressed with your presentation and delivery. You should be quite pleased with yourself.

I hope all is going well with you, Ariadne. Please keep in touch, and I will keep your expertise in the area of gender and alternative life styles in mind for future programming.

Warmly,

Sherelynn Lehman, M.A.
