

Identity crisis

A CASTING conundrum ... The US television network CBS is planning a film about Dr Renee Richards, the American tennis player who began life as Richard Raskind but in 1976 underwent a sex change operation and, amid much controversy, competed on the women's tennis circuit. The movie is to be called Second Serve - but should the star role be taken by a man or woman? Vanessa Redgrave is said to be first choice, with Sam Waterston and Kevin Kline both in the running.

Sunday Times 23/1/78