

Delight for transvestite

A guest house in a quiet West Country town is specialising in attracting an unusual clientele — transvestites and transsexuals.

Landlady Mrs Sally Walker notified neighbours in Sidmouth, Devon, of her plan and none has objected.

Mrs Walker, of Vicarage Road, said she became sympathetic after watching a television documentary and contacted one of the people featured on the programme.