

EMPATHY

VOLUME 3

ISSUE 28

Empathy Magazine explores the unusual and fascinating world of men who enjoy wearing female clothing in fact and fabulous photos. In this issue you will find the world's largest personal column (over 500 listings Coast-to-Coast) devoted exclusively to bringing transvestites and offbeat fashion enthusiasts together. In our personal columns are listed ladies, couples and men of all ages.

Also in this issue is a large letter to the Editor column, unusual photos sent in by readers, news about the transvestite community, photo illustrated personal experience articles.

Read Barbara Brand's true transvestite experience of an excursion into the twilight world of Drag Queens and Female Impersonators at a Halloween Ball, in this issue on page 9

*A Note
From Cathy*

You are holding in your hands a dream, a dream that I have had for some time — that is, making Empathy Magazine the world's largest and best transvestite correspondence medium.

The foundation for this object has materialized with this issue. The Empathy Club as of August 1970 has almost 700 members making it larger than all other clubs, including magazines that devote a column to TV interests, in the world combined. At the present rate of growth the Empathy Club will have more than 1000 members by 1971.

I attribute this growth to two factors; my desire to include people, not exclude them. The transvestite (a word I dislike) is more than a title placed on an individual who enjoys wearing feminine clothing. It is the desire to improve on ones appearance through the cosmetics of clothing. By including not excluding people, I mean I respect the right of a person to experience a personal conceptional improvement on his personal being. If a pair of panties is the only article of apparel you happen to enjoy wearing I am not going to tell you that you cannot be a part of my club because you are a deviate or just a plain fetishist, not a true transvestite as my Competitor, Charles Prince might say.

With the growing acceptance of uni-sexualism I believe that the word transvestism should be put out to pasture. In its place something new – Chameleonism.

A chameleon as you may already know is a small lizard whose skin changes color especially according to the surroundings. He changes his color not his body. As a chameleon human being you would have less inequalities in personal expression. No longer would the words fetish, partial transvestite and transvestite be apropos. The clothing you desire to wear whether it be just nylons, a correlative of feminine/masculine attire or a total femme image would be nothing more than an adaptation of your personality into the social and cultural environment that is best suited to your temperament. The clothing would be a catalysis cosmetic that facilitated this transition. It is not as cut and dried as presently here naturally but the basic theme will serve the purpose of gauging your opinions concerning this theory. At a later date I will go into more detail.

The second factor in the Empathy Club's growth is my insight into the problems of the TV who for many years has kept his interest in transvestism, a guarded secret. When you join the Empathy Club you don't have to get a security clearance from the FBI. You almost have to – to get into Charles Prince's little club. When you request to join my club I don't ask you a lot of questions and if your answers just happen to be different than my idea of what TV is all about I don't tell you you're not welcome.

I once tried to be a part of Charles' group about eight years ago and was insulted (not by Charles Prince, but by someone on his staff) called insincere, not a true transvestite and that I should give up dressing. I published no magazines at that time, had no desire to. All I wanted was to be part of a group that was attempting to bring a measure of understanding to the transvestite. I wanted to help in any way I could. If I could not be a member of his group then I would start my own. The first two magazines I published were called – Libertarian. A magazine of free thought covering not just TV but other subjects too. The other magazine was called Renaissance, a correspondence magazine. Later came the present magazines. It has been a long eight years, but worth every minute.

I know that at the beginning it is difficult to make a personal evaluation of yourself in respect to transvestism. I know, unlike Charles Prince, that fantasy not always factualism is the basis for understanding of oneself. To substantiate this I offer an example. The transvestite who joins a club for the first time usually does not place a listing in its publication until after receiving the first issue. He thoroughly examines its contents as he wants to make his first approach convincing. Here is where fantasy brings insight. He has read many, many stories, all he can get his hands on about TV. He uses a sampling of his knowledge to write a listing for the magazine even more to spice up his letters on how he puts on each article of clothing ultimately arriving at total femininity. The facts come out when his correspondent wishes to meet him or requests some photos. A large percentage of transvestites have never dressed in the presence of anyone. He really doesn't know how he really appears. Looking in the same mirror under similar lighting circumstances over a long period of time obscures his concept of his real appearance. Wonder comes into being. Is his makeup applied right? Does his wig look convincing the way it is styles?

Excuses replace the stable prose of previous letters to correspondents. The facade of fantasy undergoes its first initial steps of disintegration and through the punctures the light of reality starts to illuminate his mind with unanswered questions. Most of these questions can only be answered by his counterpart through the interchange of experiences.

Fantasy affects a person in purportation to his intro/extrovertism therefore the preceding can only be capable of being justified or defended if you let the fabric of the idea drape your own personal situation.

The club meeting lasted almost three hours and was the most enjoyable meeting to date mainly because wives and girl friends of members were present and this enabled the women to exchange ideas and experiences so that they may have a better understanding of transvestism. I wish all of you members could come to one of the meetings - I know you would enjoy yourself.

New Trenns Magazine will be out in September or early October due to technical problems. It will be worth waiting for.

The Empathy Club has a new advertiser in this issue. Abelman Trading Co. Many of you have requested information about where to buy five inch heels, this company has them and more. Write for information, they have what you have been looking for. Tell them you saw their Ad in the Empathy Magazine.

Letters to the Editor

The photo inclosed with this letter was taken last April right after my birthday. It is one of my favorites because it shows what a fix a boy can get himself into when he allows himself to be changed into a girl bondage model.

After a day of being a girl servant my girl tied me up like this (see photos) tying my hair to my ankles as sort of revenge for all the times I had tied her up that way. I suspect that is one of the main reasons she has been making me let my hair grow.

She told me she was going to leave me tied and gaged until morning and I must admit I was thrilled at the prospect of being bound and helpless all night. I certainly couldn't protest or say anything due to the tight ball gag in my mouth.

The next morning I was glad to see her come into the room but all she did was check my bonds and say she would release me after breakfast; she added that she knew I was uncomfortable but that I could stand it for another hour. After breakfast she and her mother disappeared into her room and only her mother came out. She came over to me and smiled down at me and tightened the knots securing my wrists, ankles, and hair. She left me there all day.

As night fell she asked me if I wanted some water and I nodded my head as well as I could with my hair tied as it was. She loosened my gag and stuck a straw past the rubber ball and let me drink. Then the gag was tightened and I was left to consider my predicament for the second. I had already been tied up for 24 hours, how much longer was I going to be left helpless. Were they going to leave me bound as a girl until my mother came looking for me?

By the next morning I was in torment. My feet and hands were numb and hair had been tied tightly back for so long that it was beginning to hurt my scalp. Just after sunrise my girlfriend came in and untied me.

Being trussed and gaged as a girl for 36 hours was quite an experience and although I wouldn't volunteer for it again I'm glad it happened. It certainly emphasized the control my mistress has over me.

Yours truly,

Mary Ann - Ec-110

Editor's Note:

Mary Ann, EC-110, welcomes your correspondence and exchange of ideas and opinions. Be sure to read her listing in this magazine.

Dear Cathy,

A few days ago, I wrote to the New Trenns Magazine, saying that I had not yet received it. I received it yesterday, and it certainly achieved its Advertised Goals, and far exceeded them.

Your Magazine is the only publication I have found, which is more interested in giving a Transvestite an outlet for expressing his feelings than for 'making a buck.'

Also, your editorial, giving your own philosophical and psychological explanations to the phenomena of Transvestism was very much appreciated. I agree with most of your explanations and they seem to have a deeper insight than most articles by professional psychologists. More articles along these lines will help keep up the caliber of your magazine.

An added possible service, could be to solicit advertisements from Lingerie Shops, and shops who specialize in female undergarments, as a source for those of us who do not wish to buy in a store.

Now that I am completely sold on your magazine, I would like to subscribe immediately.

The issue I have received, Volume No. 1, January/April #Four, page 41, states that I can purchase a year's subscription for $10.00. If this offer no longer holds, I will send the remaining $2.00 on request. Please start my subscription with Vol. #1, April/July, Issue #Five.

Thank you very much,

Sincerely, Barb

Dear Cathy

Thank you very much for the prompt way my Ad was inserted. I have had about four answers. Two I answered, two I could not because there was no address or Code number. I felt bad but there was nothing I could do.

Enjoyed your last supplement very much. Sure wish I could be at one of your parties - they sound great. Maybe someday.

Yours for TV

Dear Phyllis:

I feel bad also when some members write me and state that the Empathy Club is phony and the listings must be made up because they have written many letters and have received no replies. On checking I find in some cases the person put only his or her first name, no Code number or address. Some don't put this much. There you have it readers, this is the reason why many of you who answer the listings in the Empathy Club Magazine and its supplements receive no reply. So before you write me and complain, call me names as some of you do, ask yourself one small question; did I put my return address on the letter? If you can't remember such a small detail don't BUG ME!

Dear Cathy,

I'd like to go on record straight away as an admirer of your suave and assured femininity. You epitomize the great elegance and good taste of the club and its magazines.

Here's hoping the standard keeps high as the circulation rises!

It's clear from the photo album that there are many talented members within the club who deserve more attention. An idea that immediately springs to mind is that of extending the cover girl/girl of the month feature to maybe a few more photo studies of the lucky femme, perhaps including a short article on her ideas about TV, hints and tips, likes and dislikes, personal recollections, etc. One thing for sure anyway, we must see more of your glamorous memberships!

Club Empathy has the opportunity to appreciably improve the national TV standard by pooling knowledge and experience. I'm sure that right now many young novices are finding those lace encousted briefs that look so attractive are really just a bit too brief, their nylons would look better for being somewhat longer and that blouse doesn't fit quite as was intended. To these early sorties into dressing for pleasure the club might devote a series of introductory articles on techniques, on sizes, the basic wardrobe and so on - adequately instructed today's beginners are tomorrow's beauties, and besides, who amongst us would claim to know it all? I'm sure we'd all be interested and educated by such a series. The many members who stray no further across the sex line than to take pride in their lingerie could be catered for with articles outlining the variety of garments and styles currently available in the States and abroad.

In summary then, I feel you have a wonderful thing started here, I am a recent entrant to the States and am impressed by the quantity and quality of some of your merchandise; Empathy Club is an example of great quality in the making.

Finally a query - are back issues of New Trenns available and is the new issue yet ready?

Kindest Regards,

Jeanette - EC 484

Dear Cathy,

I am sending you $14.00, twelve for the New Trenns Magazine and two dollars for "The Transvestite." I received the application blanks from another TV friend. I didn't know you have an organization for Transvestites 'til he showed the book to me. I am interested in cross-dressing and have been a TV for 20 years. I like your magazine and would like to be a member because I don't want to miss anything about transvestites. I am sending you a picture of myself, which I hope you can put in your next magazine.

A little about myself . . . I am a tall girl, 6'2" and weight 200 lbs. I have a very nice wardrobe and consists of 18 pairs of high heel shoes. I am married and my wife does not approve of my dressing. I usually dress in the morning since my wife works then. I am very happy when I dress completely.

Well, Cathy, enough for now. I will be waiting for my magazines and a word from you.

Thank you,

(Signed) R.B. - Ohio

Cathy,

As a trade (occupation) pro-photographer, I do portraits, and weddings.

Being I have my own dark room, doing both b&w, color prints and slides, I'd like to offer this service at a cost to all members.

How can I advertise my photo-finishing services?

G. K. - EC-527

Editor's Note: You just did. If any of you members would like custom photo work write Ec-527 for his rates.

Dear Cathy,

In your last bulletin, you had requested that if someone could get in touch with department stores in our area to see if they could take care of our needs, and I would like to suggest to you that I do believe that we can do better, If I could contact some manufacturers and find out if I could get some items at wholesale and make a small percent, and mail out to those you actually can't buy anything where they are or are to embarrassed to do so.

I could get wigs, cosmetics, dresses, culottes, pant suits, bras, stocking regular or panty hose, panties, slips, etc.

I think the girls could save a lot of money and the merchandise would be first rate, no seconds or such, and I think they could save themselves a lot of money. The prices would depend on the quantity, and to the price.

I would have to make sure that I would have enough orders to make a purchase.

See what some of the girls think, for I am a good judge of clothes and would pick out a good item that any girl would like to have, and all would be in the type of material they requested.

Love,

Patricia Edward

the words. "panty-waist," "queer," and others. Let us devote ourselves to giving the transvestite some self respect and work toward the day when he will enjoy full rights within the law.

Rather than getting smaller in numbers, transvestism is growing larger than ever. It cannot be legislated against as most of its members are underground as partial transvestites. In this age of sexual understanding, now is the time to spread the word to the world. The more who know about the subject, the better. The job that transvestites do to sell themselves will either make or break the movement. There is no way back. Transvestism is here to stay.

Sales in lingerie to transvestites can be an economic factor never brought into the national picture. As the numbers grow so shall the sales of underclothing. I spoke to a leading men's wear merchant about trends in underclothing for men. He said that it is only a question of time when he will be selling girdles for men, not the old and heavy type either. That this might be, so shows the trend of neutralizing the sexes.

No one but transvestites themselves can do the job need. I know that my experience and knowledge of transvestism makes it logical for me to write on the subject. But I am only one in thousands. We need other dedicated transvestites to come forward for similar motives.

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

A true transvestite story by Barbara Brand

It was Friday, October 31, 1969, the day I had been waiting for, for three months. Three agonizing, desperate months of keeping "Barbara," locked up in a suitcase. At last the day arrived for "Barbara" to make her debut into public.

I woke up at 8:30 a.m. I was in the house alone. My parents had left for Las Vegas the night before, and would not be back for one week. I got up, had coffee and two eggs, took a shower, and got dressed. By this time it was 9:00 a.m. and the stores were just opening. I jumped into the car and drove off to the nearest department store. I had to pick up a new pair of panty-hose, as my old pair was ripped to shreds. (I must mention at this point that I did not keep "Barbara's" clothes at my own home. I am lucky enough to have a female companion who lets me keep my clothes at her house). I proceeded directly from the department store to her house and picked up my clothes. On returning home, I remembered I needed false fingernails, as my own nails were not in the best shape. I stopped at the nearest Woolworth store, which carries almost every cheap cosmetic you can dream of. As I walked over to the cosmetic counter, I had the distinct feeling I was being watched. (I get this feeling every time I buy any female clothing or cosmetics.) I glanced over the counter and spotted several boxes containing false fingernails. I picked a box and quickly took it to the counter, not looking up to see if anyone was watching. Once the article was paid for and wrapped, I rushed out of the store, got into my car and drove home.

By the time I got back from shopping, it was 1:30 and time for lunch. I also made a quick check of the house, and cleaned up whatever was necessary. After finishing lunch, I took my suitcases into my bedroom and eagerly opened them. There,— in each suitcase, lay an array of underwear, shoes, dresses, cosmetics and wigs. All of which I had been collecting for several years. I thought this would be a good time to clean and press all of "Barbara's" clothes. I pondered through each suitcase picking out each of the dainty things which were to be washed and pressed.

It was about 5:30 when everything was finished. It was a beautiful sight to see an array of soft feminine clothes spread out across my bed. I took a shower immediately. And after, with care, began to shave. Not only did I shave my face, but my legs, arms, and any other hair that might reveal my true sex. I dried myself, and walked into my bedroom, fully nude.

There I stood before a full length mirror, with not a stick of clothing on. The time was 8:30. This was the time I had planned to start dressing. I walked over to my bed, and took a small bottle of perfume out of one of the suitcases. I then rubbed in the beautiful scent all over my warm body. The next step was to put on, not one, but three bikini panty-girdles. This flattened my male bulge so that it could hardly be seen. I then put on my new pair of opaque panty-hose. They felt heavenly on my legs. Next came my bra and padding. Not being flabby chested, I could not make a great cleavage effect of female breasts. This didn't matter, because the dress I was going to wear was not cut low enough to see the breasts. I then slipped on a flowered mini-dress. This dress being made of soft Orlon, slipped over my body, which gave me a great sensation of pleasure. The final and most important step was the make-up. I started with a light colored liquid make-up base, which I rubbed carefully over my smooth face and neck. I patted dry with a pancake powder. I then applied a light blue eyeshadow — and followed up by putting on false eyelashes and darkening my eyebrows with a black eyebrow pencil. I then donned a beautiful, dark auburn wig. This soft wig came a little below shoulder length and fell around my neck and shoulders. I chose a Luster Frosty pink lipstick. It felt creamy and soft about my lips. Earrings were next, and I was just about done.

As I was about to congratulate myself on a perfect make-up job, I noticed my hands. "Yech," I thought to myself, "Those hands don't look very feminine to me!" I rubbed on my hands the same liquid make-up I used on my face and then put on my new fingernails. The last step was to put on my semi-high heels and the transformation was complete. I walked back over to the full length mirror. The reflection showed a beautiful young girl. I smiled, and said to myself, "Barbara, you are beautiful!"

It was about 9:30, and about time to leave. I had made a reservation for "Barbara Brand" at a local "gay" club. They were having a special Halloween Ball, which included a "Drag" contest. On this special occasion; T.V.'s, Drag Queens, and Female Impersonators were invited to come. I must admit I was quite scared of going to gay club, as I had never been to one before. I was not and am still not a "Homosexual." I had fears of getting picked-up or raped by one of the local gay boys. I had to take my chances in order to mingle with other transvestites.

Just before leaving the house, I made a final check of make-up, dress, and wig. I put on a three-quarter white cotton coat, picked up my purse, and walked out the door to my car. It was quite dark out and nobody was on the streets.

I drove down as many side streets as possible. I stopped three blocks from the club. My heart at this time was beating quite abnormally fast. The only way to get to the club was down a main street. This was not going to be easy. I waited until I thought the street was reasonably deserted of traffic. I got as far as two blocks, and had to stop for a red light. My heart was beating even faster now. All of a sudden a car pulled up beside me and stopped. I looked over beside me, and there were two young men smiling and waving at me. I was thrilled that they didn't even recognize me as being another male. The light turned green, the other car turned left and I went straight through to the end of the block where I made a right turn. I drove around for a while until I found a parking space close to the club. There lay before me my first test of femininity. I had to walk down the street from the car to the club entrance. Before I got out, I noticed three people standing just outside the entrance door. I could make out a man and two women. The man was in a dark suit and the two women were in evening gowns. This meant that they were either leaving or going to the same club I was. I got out of the car and walked down the street. As I walked, I could feel a cool breeze rushing over my exposed legs, and my dress was fluttering in the wind. Every step I took, I could hear the clicking noise that my tiny heels made on the dry pavement. I took a deep breath before I reached the front door. The three people had their backs to me. I stopped at the entrance, they turned, and I almost fainted. The man was real, but the two women with him were Drag Queens. All three said, "Hi," in deep masculine voices. I returned the greeting, and stepped into the entrance of the club.

I stood in the entrance waiting to check my coat. There were still two large wooden doors to go through. While waiting for my coat check, I could hear loud music and wild laughter. I received the stub for my coat and put it in my purse. I paused for a moment, and then opened the doors. There before me, were at least two hundred people, all beautifully dressed. The lights were flickering off and on and a live band was playing. As I walked down the aisle, I passed couples dancing. On the floor were men dancing with men and women dancing with women. As I passed the bar, I got a few winks and whistles from both male and female. I stopped and sat down at my reserved table. There sitting across from me was a very pretty young girl, a real girl. The club was very crowded so I knew people would have to double up on tables. She didn't seem the least disturbed that I had sat across from her. We sat there for several minutes, glancing at each other occasionally. I was willing to make conversation, but did not know what to say. She finally said to me, "Hi, are you here with your boyfriend?" I realized she didn't know I was a male. So I blurted out in a deep masculine voice, "No, I'm not." She jumped back in her seat, and a few seconds later started to giggle. She was so overwhelmed at what a good make-up job I had done on myself. I told her I was a transvestite, and she seemed very interested in the subject. We danced a few times but talked most of the night. I might say I was quite popular with the gay crowd. I was asked to dance by four men and three women, but refused saying I had sore feet. I really wanted to talk with this understanding girl. In the middle of the conversation the Drag Contest was announced. Over twenty people were in drag that night. The competition was going to be rough. We were given points on poise, make-up and dress. Of the twenty contestants, I came in sixth.

After the contest was over, I returned to my seat where I was joined by one of the other contestants. We talked about dress and make-up. The young girl I had made friends with that night said she had better be getting home. I asked her if we could meet again some time, perhaps the next night. She said yes, and gave me her name and address. Before she left, I kissed her goodnight, forgetting that I too had lipstick on. We both laughed and said goodnight.

I thought I had better be going home myself, before it gets too light outside. I said farewell to the people I had met that night, and thought of what a wonderful time I had. This night I would never forget — I would remember it for the rest of my life.

—Barbara Brand

TRANSVESTISM-

My First Love

Written By: Susie

How many ways do I experience the touch of fine lingerie, the feel of silk next to the skin, the containing pleasure of a girdle, the shimmering sheerness of misty nylons tightly encasing my legs, the tug of garters holding up my soft nylons. How I love to slide into pretty wisps of nothing, silky panties that grip me tightly at the crotch with their elastic leg openings. How I love to view my derriere in panties, the tight silk stretched over my flesh, the elastic at the waist, a view of real femininity. I love to bend forward and press my meagre flesh into a bra. I love to wriggle into the magic of silk when I put on my full slip and admire my body in it's lace dressing. I admire my buttocks after they are tightly encased in their panty girdle, and see clearly the embroidered outline of my panties beneath. Without these treasured things next to my skin, I am naked. Male vests and shorts, to me, are course and ugly. I feel odd in them and uncomfortable. I feel very natural in my lingerie, from the tip of my toe to my shoulder straps.

And how fortunate is the seasoned transvestite. He knows he must wear lingerie and so he provides himself with a good assortment of girdles, garter belts, and nylons. In summer I wear garter belts and bikini briefs. Half slips of course. In winter I wear a full slip and panty girdle for warmth.

As the seasons change, so does the feel of lingerie. In winter the coldest days give me the feel of cold silk next to my skin. I look at the girls in short skirts and feel with them the sting of sub-zero temperatures on their nylon-clad legs. In summer the bareness of the garter belt, the flesh above the garter belt, and between the panty crotch is a pleasant sensation. The ever present bra is hotter, but only a half slip slithers between pants and panties. I feel on hot summer days the joy of getting out of a bra and freeing myself of sticky, clinging nylons. But a fresh pair of panties always remains, even if I am stripped to the waist while weeding in my garden.

The "why and wherefore" for the transvestite is obvious. His compulsion to wear woemn's clothes is as powerful as an addiction. The type of transvestite I speak of is what I call the partial transvestite, different from the exhibitionist, the stage impersonator, or the homosexual who solicits like a prostitute. The partial transvestite by far exceeds all other types of cross-dressers in numbers. The erotic value he gets from his transvestism is from the secretive system he must employ to avoid detection. Everyday beneath his normal clothing he must put on his lingerie. He must prevent others from noticing the tell-tale outline of slip and bra. For this reason he will keep his jacket on most of the time. He must see that in sitting he does not reveal above his socks the fact that he is wearing nylons. He becomes a perfectionist in this. He must be methodical in taking things off and putting them on, to avoid leaving anything around to give himself away.

One of the main things about his transvestism is that it goes with him everywhere, whether he be salesman, doctor, lawyer, businessman, or what have you; whether he is talking before a symposium, being interviewed on television or running for election. The fact that he is wearing lingerie enhances the situation. He is following the dictates of his mind and certain urges to do with his sex. He is daring to follow a very difficult path for which the world would offer him very little sympathy. He has read Ann Landers and the man who wrote saying he wore his wife's nighties. He read about the man who admitted to Ann Landers that he wore a girdle and nylons only to receive a brickbat in reply. He expects to read more transvestite letters to Ann Landers as he knows he is not alone. He is rejected by society and therefore belongs to an ever-growing underground movement. George Bernard Shaw said, "Isn't it a pity to waste youth on the young." The transvestite feels it is a pity to waste lingerie and other frilly things on women alone. They take it all for granted. He does not. He is meticulous with his nylons and his lingerie. He washes them regularly and takes a pride in every garment he owns. When I started as a transvestite, I used to buy cheap two-way stretch girdles, gaudy panties and bizarre half-slips. Now I wear the best and pay top prices for the best type of underclothing. I never wear any male underclothing, and, even when for some extreme reason I must avoid wearing a bra and slip, (like a doctor's examination) I make sure I at least wear a pair of panties. I remember on several occasions, and with a certain amount of risk, trying on suits I had ordered, or pants during a sale, in very crowded circumstances. Once my pants were off, I was standing there showing a slip hemline and nylons. Nothing would have happened had I been caught except I would have made a hasty retreat. But it was more important to me to wear the lingerie and take the risk than to eliminate the risk altogether by wearing male underclothing.

I also have a habit of dressing in everything but nylons in the morning and then having breakfast with a dressing gown over all. It is as if I were almost in a dress and almost able to do what would be the ultimate. The unattainable for the partial transvestite is the complete changeover to female. Few people who are compulsive transvestites could ever hope to come nearer to being females. Talking personally, I know I could not give up my responsibilities. They are stronger than all else. Partial transvestism is the most I can hope for. Sex has many facets and when the transvestite comes to with his deviation, he begins to throw off any feelings of shame. He accepts his transvestism and improves upon it. He defends his right to be a transvestite. But who can he talk to? We find many overpriced clubs and magazines that take every dime they can from unsuspecting novice transvestites. The Empathy Club is the only publication I know of that does not exploit the transvestite with high prices and shoddy thrown together magazines. The Empathy Club needs your support, lets get behind it all the way.

My first really transvestite experience was wearing a bra and panties while in the navy (of all places). After much investigation, trial and error, embarrassment and soul searching, I became honest with myself. And asked myself, "Is transvestism endangering my life? Does transvestism rob me of my manhood? Would I ever give up transvestism? Is transvestism morally wrong?" I got "no" for these and many other questions. Today at church I asked myself, "Should I, a transvestite, be going to church?" Wearing the lingerie made no difference.

If transvestism is so important to me, what do I do about it? Will I feel that I must never by word or deed scandalize my fellow man or to push a belief on people, other than those who already believe in transvestism. It is clearly my duty to explore transvestism in all it's manifestations and to write about it. It is wrong for us to help develop psychosis in others by a negative approach that transvestism is wrong doing. It is necessary to be born again, to clear the conscience, to believe in oneself, to accept one's transvestism, and to be proud of it. So every way in which we help our fellow man is good. I do my best in many fields to help my fellow man. How could we then sentence transvestites to ignominy?

If you follow my reasoning, you will clearly see the need for dedication to all those who need guidance in cross-dressing. Of course one can use humor, some erotic language, and not be so straight-laced as to give the impression that there is no link between transvestism and sex. But people who write for and about transvestism must never lose sight of the goal and the end result. Only ignorance is the enemy. We know transvestites exist by the hundreds of thousands. How many of them need help? How many of them need to realize that they are not mentally ill, bizarre, or depraved. We cannot let them sink into the dark abysses of the mind. Let us rid our vocabulary of

Who Is Heidi?

Written By:

Heidi

EC-565

Who is Heidi? Heidi is a characterization I have become identified with, a little country girl who likes sweaters, skirts, mini-skirts, and casual wear, worn without foundation garments, slips or the usual run of undergarments.

Heidi has boxes of clothes, but only two brief nylon panties to her name.

She is shy, sometimes a tomboy, and completely naive. If Heidi is sexy, it is in an unconscious and unassuming sort of way; not solicitation. She is the epitome of lighthearted freedom from the masculine image of predatory cannibalism that has been man's role since noone knows when.

In my eyes, Heidi is the finest compliment I could give to womankind for she represents the things that I adore most in women. I might say that she is symbolic of the female's finest traits. The clothing is only a fetish to the symbol.

Now I know there are some, after reading this far will exclaim, "Oh! Oh! another one for the doctor in Denmark," but this is not so.

Heidi had her beginnings a couple of years ago, when lacking a model I began doing my own, to check studio lightings. The first results were terrible as photographs, only satisfactory as light checks. As time went on, makeup and clothing began to accumulate, and the big question arose. am I becoming hooked on something that is wrong?

After a good deal of mind searching, I came to the conclusion that what I was doing was being done because it was good clean fun. It violated noone's sovereignty or property rights. I was satisfied that it was in no way harmful to me either mentally or physically. The doing was my own responsibility and of no concern to disinterested persons and fully within the bounds of the foundations of social morality, so long as I refrain from violating the sovereignty or property rights of other individuals.

I live in a rural area where the population is small and people tend to live by formal custom more than by reason. If I were to leave the house in womens clothing, it would throw the entire neighborhood into a state of shock, so I keep Heidi indoors and out of sight of those to whom it might be distressing. As a result, Heidi lives mostly in the realm of photography as a pictorial entity. I won't try to say that she is beautiful. Beauty is a relative thing, and what's beautiful to one person may be nothing to another.

To me, Heidi is an intelligent, but naive and shy little country girl. However, the day may come when I can no longer do justice to Heidi. But I will still have her pictures and memories. And then, there's this sweet little old lady from Pasadena . . .

GIRL OF THE MONTH

The Girl of the Month feature of the Empathy Club Magazine has received a resounding acclamation from the readers. The first four members of the Empathy Club to share this honor are shown on this page. The first Girl of the Month was Julie EC-169. Julie is a unique and wonderful person who goes out of 'her' way to answer all the mail she receives and can and will help you with most any problem you may have pertaining to dressing. See her listing under Washington for details about her complete interests.

The second Girl of the Month was Charlene. Charlene is one of those exceptional few who can pass so perfectly in public that she has the admiration of all who know her. Her personality and cultural background enables her to transcend any level of society. She is a delight to know, write her today. Her Box number is EC-504. Portland, Ore.

The third Girl of the Month was Darlene. EC-531. As you can see from the photo she does a nice job. She would like to meet TVs in the Chicago area, but will correspond with others anywhere. I think you will find her exciting, a person with many interests.

The fourth girl of the month was Sandy EC-142. In one word. WOW! Sandy is from Long Beach, California. ★
9-11-70

She is a frequent dresser and goes out every Saturday evening. She enjoys going to public places, shopping stores and dancing. Unfortunately she has to do this by herself because it is so has had many interesting experiences and you can learn a great deal from her. She will answer all letters.

This month's Girl of the Month is Barbara EC-482. Canada, Vancouver Area. Starting with this issue of the Empathy Club Magazine the girl of the Month feature will be called True Transvestite Experiences. On page 9 is a true personal experience entitled 'A Night to Remember' written by Barbara EC-484. Her photo appears on the front cover with additional photos in her article. Barbara is one of the most enthusiastic TVs I have come across in a long time. She drives down to Seattle at least two times a month from Vancouver. Even after the long tiresome drive she never fails to be the life of the party. She always has a new experience to relate and a fashionable outfit to make the scene in at one of the local clubs where Empathy Members gather. Write her today.

If you wish to be considered for the new monthly feature True Transvestite Experiences, you must do the following; send in at least four (4) black and white photos and write a 750 or more word article telling about when you started dressing, the clothing you enjoy wearing, your personal experiences relating to going out dressed in public or just staying at home.

All material should be type written but I will accept hand written material only if care is taken so that it is completely legible. If I can't read it I can't print it. Some of you will be writing me and stating that you would like to submit something but have little writing experience. All you have to do is write your experience in a conversational manner as if you were telling a friend. I will correct the english or spelling if necessary. All who submit an experience with photos will be published except those that are off-color or relate to Gay Experiences.

For It!

It is a new digest type book called Astounding Transvestite Tales. This is issue Number One, Volume Number One. If tales of dominant women who force men to wear delightful feminine clothing is your most sought after reading material but least found, this book is it.

The fiction stories in Astounding Transvestite Tales goes into stark detail on how men are trained and transformed into being completely feminine. It's all here; Bondage, discipline and servitude. Whatever you have dreamed about happening to you at the hands of a dominant woman happens to the men in these stories.

What does Astounding Transvestite Tales Cost? Only $4.00. How do you order it? You can't now, because it is only now being readied for printing. If you would like to reserve a copy of Astounding Transvestite Tales before publication send me a stamped envelope (don't inclose any money) with your return address on it along with a note stating you wish to buy it when ready.

When the book is being printed I will return your envelope to you with a notice stating the book is ready to order. You will receive a postage free envelope to mail back your order in. I am handling orders for Astounding Transvestite Tales this way only because I want all the members of the Empathy Club to have first chance at this book, which will no doubt be a sellout. Send your request for reserving Astounding Transvestite Tales along with the stamped return self-addressed envelope to: Empathy Club, Dept. ATT, Box 12466, Seattle, Washington 98111.

TRANVESTITE

"A STUDY OF MEN WHO ENJOY WEARING WOMEN'S CLOTHING"

This book relates to a phenomena that has been a part of society since there was a society — transvestism. But unfortunately society (even today) has been slow to learn about transvestism because it has invariably, due to prejudice and lack of understanding, confused it with other behavioral patterns. Many people have therefore suffered greatly and unnecessarily.

The author has tried to be as unobtrusive as possible presenting facts, figures and opinions about transvestism gathered from numerous sources so that you the reader will have a better understanding and increased awareness as to the complexities of human nature. It is hoped that this book will sooner or later come into the hands of someone who has to contend with this phenomena either as a concerned bystander such as a parent or a wife or possibly a practicing transvestite. If this book can help any of these people achieve any degree of understanding and consideration it will have served its purpose.

Stop wondering, read the facts. Order your copy of 'The Transvestite,' today. Only $2.00 — Send today. You will also receive with your book complete information about the Empathy Club.

Below is listed the nine fact filled chapters of this book that explains in detail what transvestism really means and why it is not the evil phenomena most people conceive it to be.
